THE UNIVERSAL COMPLAINT, HEADACHE.

Who is there that does not know the suffering of this distressing affection? We need not attempt a description of its symptoms All Headaches are not symptomatic of disease, the nature of the affection rendering it unnecessary to do anything more than to remove the cause of the disorder, which is generally some disorder of the stomach and bowels, occupying the ill of which, the nerves generally deranging the system and producing great prostration, Dyspepsia, Costiveness and easy digestion Only ensure this, and the difficulty will vanish In order to effect this desirable object, no medicine ever offered to the public has been used with greater success than Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters combining all the advantages of the tonic and aperient medicines of the day and free from many of their usual drawbacks

The annexed certificate to one of the Bushes will be read with interest by those afflicted with the above and other complaints arising from a deranged stomach

New Bedford Aug 1, 1844

Dear Sir I find Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters all that you recommend them to be and take great pleasure in saying that I think them the best preparation of the kind ever offered to the public I have been troubled for a long time with Jaundice and a derangement of the Stomach, all need with Head Ache and Vertigo which was so bad at times that I could not see and think that I can entirely credit the use of these Bitters I have used them in my family and would recommend them to every one suffering from Jaundice, Indigestion and Headache

DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS

At certain seasons of the year, and particularly in the spring many persons are subject to a depression of the spirits accompanied by a lubricated stomach, loss of appetite, nervous irritation, general languor, and a variety of symptoms which it is impossible to describe The only way to remove this disease is to strengthen the stomach by the use of proper tonic remedies, to brace up the muscles, secure an appetite for food, and all nervous irritation and by putting the body into a high state of health to produce ease and strength of mind To do this, nothing is more effective than the Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters They are confidently recommended as the best SPRING MEDICINE ever offered to the public One trial of their virtues will be sufficient to convince all of their invaluable properties, and those who have used them will never resort to any other remedy for this painful disease, as restorative as it is to all happiness and usefulness in life

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC

Be particular and ask for Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters, and receive no other These is the first preparation of Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry combined ever offered to the public, and the great success attending its use will induce the unprincipled to counterfeit it As a preventative, see that the bottles have the words Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters pressed on the glass as a further protection each label on the bottle will be signed by the proprietor, E Thornton, Jr Take these precautions and you will get the genuine article

From the New Bedford Register

Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters—The respectability of gentlemen in this town and vicinity, who testify to the benefits, within their personal knowledge, derived from the use of this Compound of Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry is such as to put to rest all doubts as to the value of these extracts to those suffering from Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Indigestion, Headache, or Scrofulous diseases When a medicine has been known to effect cures in certain cases, no recommendation is needed, other than a simple statement of facts. To those then, who are liable to any complaints for which the Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters is advertised as a remedy, we would say, do as others have done and find relief in the way pointed out by the proprietor of this highly popular compound

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA,

FOR THE REMOVAL AND PERMANENT CURE OF ALL DISEASES ARISING FROM AN IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, OR HABIT OF THE SYSTEM

IF there be a pleasure on earth which superior beings cannot enjoy, and one which they might well envy men the possession of, it is the power of relieving pain How consoling, then, is the consciousness of having been the instrument of rescuing thousands from misery to those who possess it What an amount of suffering has been relieved, and what a still greater amount of suffering can be prevented, by the use of Sands's Sarsaparilla! The unfortunate victim of hereditary disease, with swollen glands, contracted sinews and bones half curious, has been restored to health and vigor The scrofulous patient, covered with ulcers, loathsome to be in and to look at, has been made whole Hundreds of persons, who had scarcely hope left for years under cutaneous or glandular disorders, or some internal malady and many other complaints proceeding from a derangement of the secretive organs and the circulation have been raised like it were from the rack of disease, and now with rejuvenated constitutions, gladly testify to the efficacy of this invaluable preparation

The following testimonial case must come recommend itself to the careful study of every one similarly afflicted

Sands's Celebrated Sarsaparilla

Upon experiment this will be found to be in fact more effectual in the cure of chronic or scrofulous rheumatism than any other preparation I have ever tried Having for many months suffered, at times with the most fearful pains from repeated attacks of inflammatory or acute Rheumatism, I have recently used Sands's Sarsaparilla with the happiest success, my health is now better than it has been for many months past my appetite is good and my strength is rapidly returning I anticipate this beneficial change entirely to the use of this excellent medicine Feeling a deep gratitude for those who were efficient in this most fortunate and painful result, and feeling that I cannot be too explicit in recommending to suffering humanity such an excellent remedy as Sands's Sarsaparilla, I hereby testify to the effects of the same, and request any one wishing any further information to call on me at my residence No 5 Bowdoin Square, Boston

A B & D Sands Druggists New York Although an entire stranger to you, I feel at liberty to address you for your valuable Sarsaparilla which has been the means of restoring my wife to perfect health after suffering for years with a disease which has baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in this section and which had been pronounced incurable by them Mrs Starbuck suffered excruciating pain in the head, face, neck and breast, and was entirely deprived of rest by night and labored under the most distressing nervous debility Various remedies were resorted to, but without effect, until your Sarsaparilla was recommended to us by Mr Macy, druggist of this town, who had sold it in numerous instances, and knew of its having effected many remarkable cures Mrs Starbuck had taken but two bottles before she found herself relieved from pain, and after using three bottles was entirely restored to health, and has remained so ever since Her physicians, who had given her up, are astonished at the result, and have recommended your Sarsaparilla to others in similar cases

To our Cushioned arm Chair,

ON BOARD STEAMER PENOBSCOT }
Penobscot River }

We started from this city to day noon in this boat with about sixty passengers, the number being limited undoubtedly on account of the unpleasantness of the weather, and the fact that the passage through to Boston would be uncommonly rough We have frequent showers as we are passing down the river, and of course there is no favorable opportunity for viewing the natural scenery we are passing a glimpse however occasionally caught, which draws forth the applause of an intelligent Foreigner on board

The Penobscot moves rapidly along with a quiet easy movement She is a good boat and has an excellent name for her present route — Her commander Capt Thomas G Jewett, is less known upon the Penobscot than upon the Kennebec river where he has for several years been a highly popular and fortunate steam boat commander Wherever he is known the people have the fullest confidence in his skill, discretion and seamanship We like to say a good word in favor of such a man It does one's heart good to bestow our commendations upon the meritorious, and we consider it no small matter, that our steamboat commanders and all who have the charge of the great means of travel should be men of the right character We may not yet personally made the acquaintance of the subordinate officers of this boat, but learn they are well qualified for their stations and have the entire confidence of their commander

George Smith, Mate, E H Sandford, Clerk son of the owner of the boat Capt Wm F Cowers of Boston, 1st Pilot, Mr Peter Sturges, 2d Pilot Rufus Dermott, 1st Engineer, J Hathram, 2d Engineer, F McGowan Steward

All classes appear to be represented in our fellow passengers Here are a fine little flock of women, mostly young and some of them really beautiful but it will not answer for us to call names We have representatives from the bench and the pulpit the merchant the mechanic and the lumberman—foreigners and natives, and although each has her share of the best and appear cheerful and happy Miss Matt can, we think, be not excepted in some one else, says it is not good art to make up a hasty judgment upon the characters of those we meet and in illustration of this, mentions the fact that a raw Canadian traveler on landing in England displayed to the astonished gaze of the natives a wooden leg, and the natives supposing he placed his wooden leg in the way of assisting the lady to take cold and at the same time saving the wear and tear to shoes and stockings and thinking well of the ingenious invention and also what he could treat every Britain, England and more wooden leg Truth could be made this manifest to some what easier to enlightened conviction We find it difficult enough to delineate accurately about those around us much more in attempting a sketch of men We will therefore only say briefly as of the rest of our fellow passengers

The forenoon to us has been a pleasant one made, as a correspondent usually and withal a man of much intelligence and of large experience He is a Scotchman named Robert F Gourlay, and remarkable from the fact, that for years together he occupied a cabin Time he solemnly asserts, in his case has been manufactured in some of the medical publications Those last time that he slept, until recently, was while John Tyler was on a visit to Boston—he then slept two hours On the 4th of July while stopping over night at Camden, he slept the whole night and this he considers so remarkable, that he will be communicated to the Boston Medical Journal But the great interest we took in any thing in the fact of his extensive knowledge of the condition of the poor in England, Ireland and Scotland, and of the causes of that condition and his suggestions for a remedy For many fifty years he has been engaged in various ways, sometimes in the employ of the government in making inquiries — He has, as he expresses it, dedicated his life to the great cause of improving the condition of the poor in those countries, and, after years of earnest and anxious inquiry, he has arrived at the conclusion, that the only effectual remedy is to be found in emigration The new world of North America opens to the crowded and famished millions of Europe, a place of escape, a chance to live a means of physical, intellectual and moral elevation We have not space in this letter to give a description of his plan of effecting the object nor of the many obstacles which he has encountered in prosecuting it The vastness of his plans seem little, if any thing less than the removal of Israelites from Egypt under the express command of the Almighty This subject may perhaps form the subject of my next or some subsequent letter, if I shall succeed in reducing it within reasonable limits, in a letter form Adieu

☞ Mr. Samuel Colt (brother of the late John Colt,) has been held to bail in $1500 in a civil suit and $500 in a criminal one, for a brutal and unprovoked assault on the person of Mr Patten, a counsellor at law in New York Mr P obtained a judgment against Colt for $1200 for board, on behalf of Coleman & Stetson of the Astor house, and subsequently filed a bill to reach his property. Hence the assault.

The Benefits of Popular Associations for Mutual Improvement.

The great social and moral lever of our age is Association By means of it the greatest changes are wrought in society The physical universe is everywhere undergoing changes by its influence the vast water falls are restrained by mighty barriers and made to toil for supplying human wants and relieving human muscles, the Heaven kissing rock ribbed hills are made to bow their lofty heads and are rent assunder to allow the free-horse of human creation to rush clanking with the speed of the wind upon his iron course, bringing remote points into near neighborhood, by annihilating time and space, and causing exchange of intelligence and of the products of industry with a rapidity almost miraculous

Association is the potent machinery—the modern fire horse, in intellectual and moral enterprises in which it works with even more surprizing power than in the material world We see it arousing men to a higher confidence in their capacities for improvement and the acquisition of intellectual treasures, giving men a firmer self reliance and a larger faith in their God given powers and mind and heart We see Association pouring everywhere over human society the golden truth of the natural equality of man in all the original and essential elements of intellectual and moral capacities, thus causing all under its full influence to realize more vividly the great idea of brotherhood which underlays all our relations and which is so thickly woven in the web of all our essential interests

Even the multiplication of Associations instead of producing conflicts and estrangements among men serve, rather, by easy and natural laws to bring men near together Every popular association becomes a bridge thrown over the dark waters that divide society and serves the purpose of more easy and frequent communication between men of different pursuits and tastes, and enables them the sooner to understand that important fact that, men never differ quite as much as they seem Thus we see society evolved out of diversity, since it is an every day spectacle to find men vigorously working together with united hearts in promoting various objects of good to humanity in more or less of the various forms of association, who in an isolated condition might ever remain strangers

It is this influence of association that has made it effect ent above all isolated efforts in education al and moral undertakings, and which endears it to all hearts who know its worth and who desire a wider reception of the vital law of the brotherhood of man

Many fears have been entertained and many prejudices have existed against the principle of association, lest men by being merged in association, should lose their individuality, and by becoming accustomed to act in banded masses, should at length, think only in masses, or, in other words, leave all thinking to a few acknowledged or self established leaders But these objections, if they ever possessed much force, have ceased to be of weight, since Association has for its object the important point of exciting individuals to think for themselves, to become familiar with their own capacities and to labor for the development of their powers — Association utters its words of encouragement and hope It goes out on a mission to every man, increasing his faith in himself by telling him of his intellectual resources that lie embedded within him and of the high moral and spiritual capacities that are slumbering in his soul — It extends the willing hand of encouragement to the great ocean like masses of men, the multitudes who toil for subsistence—all those whose hearts are throbbing for higher enjoyments and whose fruitful upon a struggle for a deeper insight into the mystery of themselves, and the universe around and above and beyond them — Wherever man is found it ca him by word and act to enter upon his manhood and improve the great capital of powers with large capacities and intellectual energies in the pursuit of his knowledge This will enable him to stand erect, a God gifted man having a sound mind in a sound body and both vivified by a warm and loving heart

This great instrument of association, it seems to us, is one of the great hopes open ally to our young men It is to them one important step in the progress of humanity to a higher and better condition

The young men of our country are highly favored in having this element prepared to their hands—its practicability tested and its useful ness proved They may derive from it its high est advantages by making it supply to them the benefits of Colleges and the lectures of learned professors The various Mechanic and other popular associations have wrought great changes in the intellectual and moral condition of their members and have served to remove that feeling of overbearing, and two confident assumption on the one hand and that feeling of envious dependence on the other which too long divided society We commend therefore to the attention of all the up building and popular associations

☞ We have called in to visit a few of the primary schools, which are being examined this week, and are much gratified with the good order that prevails in them, and with the progress the little folks have made in their studies We have in Bangor some excellent and devoted female teachers, whose whole souls seem to be engaged in their arduous and responsible duties Probably few places are more favored in this respect

Of the many excellent schools kept by females, it may perhaps be invidious, to speak of any in particular but we trust we shall be pardoned for alluding to the one on York st kept by Misses Thayer and Snow We never saw more happy and cheerfull little faces than we saw there on Wednesday P M And the songs they sung,—it was to us, a perfect mystery how they could learn to sing so well In order, cheerful ness, contentment on the part of the children, and in the kind and maternal tenderness toward them on the part of these excellent and devoted teachers, that school better satisfies our idea of what a school for little children should be, than any other we have lately seen

☞ We are informed by a friend that Henry Smith the "Razor Strop Man" and popular Temperance Lecturer, intends visiting this city in a few days

☞ The Charter Oak arrived early this morning having been detained on the river by a dense fog Jerome & Co. were on hand as usual with papers in advance of the mail

Rail Road Meeting.

We would bespeak a full attendance at the meeting to be holden at the New Court house this evening One great object of the meeting is, to illustrate by means of maps and charts which will be exhibited, the relation that the proposed Atlantic and St Lawrence Rail Road has to the West and the great line of communication now opened and opening from Montreal to the Mississippi River The various Rail Roads which are now seeking to command the trade of the West and the great Lakes will be delineated on the maps so that any person attending the meeting will be able to satisfy his own mind which route will be adopted Much useful information may be expected to be given in regard to the public works on the St Lawrence commerce, rates of toll &c., and we think that we may assure our readers that the information that they will obtain by attending the meeting will fully repay them for their trouble

Hostility of Boston to Maine.

It has been said that the alledged "Hostility of Boston to Maine was not fairly chargable upon her principal merchants and leading men, but originated with those connected with the Rail Road projects to Canada, which were supposed to be rivals of the Maine Road In answer to that suggestion, it is only necessary to refer to one or two facts which may not be familiar to our people

Last winter, while our delegates were in Montreal, the Agent of the Stanstead and Central routes to gain favor with the Canadians, stated that they would go to Boston, and bring up sufficient strength to "send the Maine delegation home in disgrace in a very few days Most of them returned to their places of residence—indignation meetings were called, and Maine was at once resolved into "a howling wilderness which echoed only to the howl of the wolf, and the delegation from Maine blown sky high on paper Meanwhile a paper or letter were drawn and signed by some 300 or 300 of their "principal merchants and leading capitalists in Boston, as they were termed, in which they undertook to address or counsel the Canadians as to their "true interests in the matter— which was, to decline any connection with any other road than one terminating at Boston The paper was headed by Hon JARVISON GRAY OTIS of Boston and contained the names of Abbott Lawrence, Nathan Appleton, S b Lawis (Agent of the Cunard Steamers), and others Those interested to see it will find it for allusion to it in the Boston Courier and other Boston papers in the early part of March last This meanest and precious document was forthwith taken to Montreal by Mr Erastus Fairbanks and there presented and used as a proof positive that Maine was "out in the cold and that Atlantic and St Lawrence Rail Road projectors surely used up

Evidently expecting from it full & triumphant success, the Boston papers said "what effect this will have upon the Maine delegation and the Portland project in Montreal remains to be seen" — Sute enough, it still remains to be seen, and its effect will long remain upon the minds of the intelligent merchants and statesmen of Canada It was received there with the same feeling which arises in our mind at once on the statements being made—that of contempt It was looked upon as insulting in every sense both to Maine and to Canada

Unable by the arrogance and assumption to destroy our credit in Montreal, "high-minded and public spirited men of Boston have volunteered their kind offices to Canada by destroying our credit in London" Maine has asked no aid in London Her stocks are too eagerly sought for at home to require it This is more than can be said of Massachusetts stocks But we will not disparage the credit of others It is the mark of a mean and envious spirit

☞ We are pleased to learn by a letter received from "A Friend of Learning (whose letter we should be glad to give entire, if the press of matter would permit) that a Normal school is about to be opened in the town of Lee, 12 miles from Lincoln A commodious and even elegant building has been erected and nearly completed, and the enterprising and intelligent inhabitants of that beautiful town are said to be much interested in the cause of education, and they certainly deserve much credit for their liberality and public spirit in thus providing, under many unfavorable circumstances, the means of securing to their children the benefits of a good education, and we trust this institution will be amply supported

For Texas.

The New Orleans Tropic of the 21st inst, says the steamboats are busily engaged in putting the stores, &c, on board the ship Queen Victoria and Sussex which are to convey the United States troops to Texas We learn that in addition to these two vessels, the steamship Alabama has been chartered to go on the same service, and more particularly to land the troops, stores, &c. from the ships, on their arrival at the place of destination The expedition was to start immediately

☞ M. Chitti an eminent writer on political economy, and who visits the United States by direction of the Belgium Government, has arrived at New York city "This mission—[says the Mirror] has for its end the increase of the commercial relations between Belgium and the United States, and generally a study of the institutions of this Republic We take great pleasure in recommending him to the courtesies and consideration of our countrymen

☞ We learn that a boat containing eight men, swamped yesterday at the foot of Gordon falls, on the Penobscot, about 60 miles from this city, and that four of the men were drowned — Their names were Sampson Gulliver, Stephen, White, Isaac Hall, and a Mr Fergurson The remaining four succeeded in gaining the shore

☞ Wyatt had last evening, as he always has had since he has been here, a crowded house — The lovers of innocent diversion must improve this opportunity of being gratified this (Friday) evening, or wait until another season brings him here again

☞ The far famed Fakir, we are informed, is to lecture in the City Hall the ensuing week — He is now making a great sensation in Portland, and probably a similar one awaits him here.

☞ Mr ——— Clark of Parkman, was drowned at Stillwater on the 10th ult He was in the employ of Col William Ramsdell

Commodore Hoppe.

The Texan papers contain the veto of President Jones to the joint resolut ons passed by the Texan Congress, to restore Com Moore to his command in the navy, and to allow him pro rata pay since he has been dismissed from the service The following are the principal reasons assigned by the President, and they seem to us to be conclusive, and such as to justify he course which the President has thought proper to adopt

"The reasons assigned for the veto are, first, relative to the removal of Com Moore that the verdict of the court by which he was removed was just and fully sustained by the testimony adduced, and that dismissal from the service was the slightest punishment the law permitted for the offence of which he was found guilty That the executive is the only department of the government that has power to pardon, and therefore that Congress has unconstitutionally assumed a function not belonging to the legislative department

"The sympathies of Congress and the Executive might indeed be invoked in his individual behalf, says President Jones, "but it might well be refused, unless Antonio Dranols, James Hogg ns, Isaac Allen, and William Simpson, who were executed at the yardarm of the ship Austin, by hanging for one hour, and until death, for a similar offence, by order of Captain Moore, while under arrest himself, could be restored to life and partake of his efficacy Could the deep grave up its dead, and the sympathy claimed be made general in its operation the Executive would listen to the call Else But no case can ever sanction a rule which hangs the poor sailor, and rewards his officer for efficacy of a congenial character

To the all wance of pro rata pay it is objected that Com M stands indebted to the Treasury of the Republic to the amount of 50,870 30, which he has drawn since June, 1842, and has not accounted for, besides an amount standing to his debt in the Auditor's books at Austin and claims filed against the government of $ the amount of $23,000 for debts contracted by him, making an aggregate for which he is held accountable, of between seventy and one hundred thousand dollars and that should the just resolutions become law, he would be virtually released from all responsibility to refund or account for this amount, and besides that the allowance of pay which was proposed, would only be viewed as a reward for insubordinate and disobedient conduct to the laws and authorities,

☞ The N Y Commercial in the following paragraph, describes a sorry state of things as existing at the steamboat landings in New York It is strange that such evils as are here alluded to, and which present a serious obstacle to strangers who wish to visit the city, should not be remedied

☞ Who bakes? A gentleman who was a passenger on board the steamboat Wm Crane from Norwich, this morning, describes to us a scene at the landing place which our Hotels Herald and which will certainly awaken the city authorities to the necessity of some more stringent measures with the cabmen who infest our steamboat landings

Our informant says that on stepping here they found the wharf literally covered with cabmen each one of whom tried to force his way on board — One of the crew opposed him, and a struggle ensued between them, Other of the cabmen came to the rescue, and a fearful conflict on the wharf furnished them with missiles, which were freely thrown into the boat Some of the passengers were struck and more or less bruised, and the assailants eventually took possession of the boat Before the conclusion of the affray our informant left the scene

Female Hermit.

The Baltimore papers state that there is a female Hermit in the neighborhood of Ellicott's Mills existing great interest She is reported by those who have seen her as being remarkably delicate and fair, with flowing tresses—small feet and hands neatly, though plainly appareled, and in her movements, when unconscious of any of her species being near, captious and sprightly, but upon observing any person, she bounds back to the depth of the forest with a speed and lightness almost superhuman She is seldom seen, having been accidentally discovered she has been watched for with much interest, and as she has occasionally emerged from the unknown place of her seclusion—her home in the rocks and glens—persons have witnessed her visits to the Sylvan Springs situated in a deep ravine peculiar to that region of country We also learn that a number of gentlemen, anxious to satisfy their curiosity in reference to this mysterious recluse have determined to find out the abode of the fair and lovely stranger, and if possible, restore her back to society

☞ We have received a well written article signed S in favor of the Portland and Montreal Railroad which we shall be glad to publish, but our columns were entirely occupied by other matter

California will soon be ours!

The way is to be rapidly paved for the admission of California into the Union The U S Journal, one of the organs of the Government says

"We see by our exchange papers that the citizens of California have organized an independent government a mi lar to that of Texas and the United States Large bodies of emigrants are about starting to that beautiful country from Missouri and the other Western States The carpenter at the Capitol may as well be getting two new seats prepared for the forthcoming Senators from the new State of California

Old Age,

A life of active industry does not perceive the gradual advance of old age and it is incredible how much labor, unitedly industrious and temperate old man will perform The Massachusetts Plough man says that Mr James Capen of Stoughton, now in his eighty ninth year mowed an acre of grass in three hours, stopping about one hour only after commencing Mr Capen and his wife of the same age, have lived together man and wife, for sixty seven years — She now takes care of her dairy

Important.

See that your barns are well ventilated while your hay is new The frequent destruction of buildings of this description, by electric conduct is in nine cases out of ten, the result of carelessness in the non observance of this important duty —Maine Cultivator

Go Not Back.

My brother go not back,
The pledge is taken now,
I see it in the health'ful smile
That plays upon thy brow,
I see it in the sparkling eye,
So dull and dim before
Then go not back again my friend,
To sure destruction's door

My brother, go not back,
Press on in virtue's way,
Be steadfast in thy sacred pledge,
And Truth shall be thy stay
Hope bright as morning's dawn shall spring,
Where'er thy feet may tread—
Then go not back again my friend,
To paths of terror spread.

My brother go not back,
To sorrow and to woes,
To rehp the bitter fruits of sin,
Where none to glory rise,
Where stranger to the joys of earth,
Life will be steeped in woe—
Then go not back again my friend,
But upward, heavenward go.

My brother will not go—
I see it in his cheeks;
I see it in the tears that flow,
And when I hear him speak
He has received, in God's own strength,
Who will, I know us aid,
Never, while reason holds the throne,
To touch the cup again

BY TO-DAY'S MAIL

Fifteen Days Later from Europe.

The British Royal Mail Steamship Cambria arrived at Boston on the 30th ult being the quickest passage ever made by twenty four hours

The news by this arrival is of very little interest

The uncertainty which has hitherto prevailed respecting the weather has caused more activity in the Corn trade

The Caledonia, although detained by fog at Halifax until the 4th inst, reached Liverpool at ten o'clock on the morning of the 14th being a passage of nine days and 20 hours, from Halifax

The demand of Cotton is large, but the requirement are for the legitimate purposes of trade

The American Provision market is in a stagnant state, owing to the reduction of the stocks and the absence of imports

The price of American stocks is looking up

Intelligence from Syria represents that the Turkish authorities were using their utmost exertions to quell the disturbances there, but with no very brilliant prospect of success

The quarterly meeting of the Iron masters has recently been held in Staffordshire During the last few weeks every description of manufactured iron has been reduced upwards of 20 per cent

IRELAND.

Ireland is tolerably tranquil, except that murders and riots continue to be committed in some of the districts

The disturbances at Armagh, however, seem to have excited the English mind very much

The Crown has given up the prosecution against Samuel Gray the notorious Orangeman, who has been twice tried for murder, and once convicted of manslaughter

The celebration of the 12th of July by the Orangemen provoked the attacks of the Catholic party in several instances, and in one at Armagh, we regret to say the affray ended fatally

SPAIN

The French papers contain the particulars of an outbreak in Catalonia Some of the small towns round Barcelona had been called upon to contribute their levy of men to the army Excesses were resorted to, and several of the Agents were put to death At Tarrasa, the Alcalde was assassinated At San Andreu, the authorities were dispersed with musket shots

At Subadell, five leagues from Barcelona the insurgents and the authorities commenced an open conflict ensued and the people lost 25 men while many were taken prisoners

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY AT ALGIERS

The intelligence which has just come to hand from Algeria, gives an account of the murder of a thousand Arabs by the French The caverns of the Dahra, where the Arabs had taken refuge, was the scene of this horrid affair Here they were burned in faggots were lighted, and the unfortunate wretches were but stifled and suffocated in their place of refuge

When the cave was entered a scene too revolting for description presented itself to all seventy persons, who were still living, expired as soon as they were brought to open air Eight hundred bodies has been taken out, and many remained behind

The name of the officer by whose orders this unsoldier like massacre was consummated, is Pelissier The affair has caused much surprise and no small amount of indignation

Syria.

The French papers publish lamentable details respecting the civil war between the Maronites and the Druses and the criminal negligence of the Turkish authorities The Maronites says the Constitutional "have suffered the most severely They have lost more than 5000 of their people, an ong whom were men, children, and aged men form a majority The losses of the Druses are not to short 1000 persons, and these, for the most part, able bodied men

All the Christian villages in the mixed districts have been burnt The hare six ravaged, and their mulberry trees destroyed In a word their ruin is complete,

☞ We learn that the Bridge in Harrington was carried away by the freshet yesterday which prevented the arrival of the mail this morning

NOTICE.

At a full meeting of the Committee to procure subscriptions to the capital stock of the Atlantic and St Lawrence Rail Road at the Land Office last evening from the strong interest excited on the question and the desire for further information, it was thought advisable that the claims of the Road should be further presented and discussed by our citizens at a public meeting who are hereby invited to meet at the New Court on FRIDAY Eve Aug at 7½ o'clock PM where they will be addressed by several gentlemen upon the subject
